Volume I

John Woolman, an English Gentleman (son of William), hearing reports of Fenwick colonizers in N. J. came over in 1681 and settled upon 8000 acres of land extending from the Burlington River southward to the North Branch of the Rancocas, a distance of 5 miles, including the present site of Mt. Holly (See Lees Gen. History of N.J., Vol. III, page 886)

He married Oct. 8, 1684 at Burlington Mtg. N.J. to Elizabeth Borton born 5-27-1664.

1724128

Borton sometimes spelled Barton, is a common name in England. (Borton-Mason Gen., F. C. Mason, Hillsdale, Mich)

John Borton, baptized 1-25-1634, son of William Borton who married Oct. 6 (or 16), 1613 Elizabeth _____. the American emigrant, lived at Hillsdown, along the Northampton River, Burlington Co., N.J., and was formerly from Parish Aynhoe, Northamptonshire, England. He brought with him his wife, Ann Kinton, whom he married April 12, 1658. They sailed March 5, 1679 on "Griffin" from Buxton in Oxfordshire and they had a certificate from Burton Mtg. in Oxfordshire dated March 5, 1769. John Borton died 5-31-1687. Ann, his wife, died 1688.

Northamptonshire joins Gloucestershire. There is a town named Bourton in the latter Co. and it might be this was the ancestral home. Vol. 7, p 189 of "The Ancestors" has the Borton Coat of Arms. John is mentioned as early as 1660 in Besse's "Sufferings".

(Throughout the Co. a tenth was considered as 32,000 acres and its inhabitants were entitled to ten representatives in the General Assembly and the latter was empowered to fill the public offices) This land left extended from a line now occupied by the Mt. Holly-Moorestown turnpike to the Rancocas and was known as "The Borton Tract" In Evesham twp, now Mt. Laurel. (p 151-52 Smiths, History of the Colony of New Caesaria, or New Jersey 1765)

Borton & Mason Families
1908 Dr. F. C. Mason, Hillsdale, Mich.

"The Bortons in Europe"

The ending of the name in "ton", and the location of a town named Bourton in Gloucestershire, a county adjoining that of Northampton, would indicate that the ancestor of John, the original emmigrant to America, were of Norman origin, and were no doubt one of the tribes who came into England at the time of the Conquest in 1066, and that Bourton in Gloucestershire was their county seat, and which was devised to them by William the Conqueror. Tradition says that the chief of this tribe was John Bourton and that later the crist on the Arms was a boars head.

We quote the following from Joseph Besse's Collections of the Sufferings of the People called Friends for the Testimony of a good Conscience" Two Vol. London 1953. "In 1st mo. 1660, John Bett & John Borton, of Aino, Northamptonshire, were taken out of their own houses by soldiers and committed to prison for refusing the oaths. Also, in the year 1665, John Bett, John Borton, Edward Hardley and John Holcroft, (Poor Laborers) had their goods taken by distress for a fine of four shillings each, imposed for four weeks absence from their parish church."

"The best title one can establish, to the high esteem of an intelligent community, is a long and honorable residence therein"

In the year 1674, Oxfordshire, taken by distress for meetings this year, from John Holcroft, John Borton and Thos. Mercer, 1 pound, 15 shilling. From a search made in Friends Records, London, it is probable that John, the emmigrant, with Ann, his wife, were the only converts to the Friend Faith in the Borton Family; and being persecuted not only by the established church, but possibly by members of his own family, he sought a home and refuge in th e new country. He became a Friend, as shown above, many years prior to immigration; and the dates of birth of all his children except the youngest daughter who was born in America, are to be found in Friends Records of England. There are Bortons who still reside at Ayaho and vicinity and all Bortons in America, so far as known descended from John and Ann; and the ancestry in all cases has so far been traced back to this progenitors.

In Samuel Smith's History of the Colony of New Caesaria, in New Jersey, 1765, pps 151-152 "Transactions of the Assembly of West New Jersey, Session 1682, 1st to 11th mo;" states that John Borton was chosen in connection with William Brightwen for constable of London tenth. John Borton in his will left his sons, John Jr. and William, shares which he owned in the above named tenth. Throughout the county of Burlington, a tenth of land was considered as 32,000 acres and the inhabitants thereof were entitled to 10 representatives in the General Assembly of West Jersey, which Assembly was empowered to appoint persons to fill all public offices, from Counsellors to constable.

We have been able to trace the genealogy of the Borton family, in America, back to John Borton, and his wife Ann, who came from the Parrish of Aynho, Northampton Co, England in the year 1679, in company with several families of Friends. In this company of Colonial Immigrants were the progenitors of the Gardiner, Moore, Prickett, Evans, Collin, Engle and Troth families.

John Borton, with Ann, his wife, and 7 children, two boys and 5 girls, settled at Hillsdown, on the Northampton River, now known as Rancocas Creek, New Jersey. The land which he entered was a tract in Evesham Twp, now Mt. Laurel, Burlington Co, New Jersey. The tract of land extended from a line now occupied by the Mt. Holly and Moorestown turnpike to Rancocas Creek and was known as the "Borton Tract".

John Borton died at Hillsdown in the year 1687, leaving a will dated 28th day of 5th mo. and proved the 11th mo. 14th day of 1687. He named his sons John and William and mentioned his 6 dts. but does not name them.

Certificate of Removal

"John Borton and Anne, his wife of Hillsdown on the "Northampton River" Burlington Co, New Jersey, came from the Parish of Aynho, Northamptonshire, England, bringing a certificate from the Mo. Mtg. of Borton, in Oxfordshire, dated 3rd mo, 5th day 1679 O.S. and signed by a number of persons who vouch that they have "Known ye said John and Ann Borton these many years, and that they have walked honestly among us, living in the fear of God and in obedience to the blessed truth revealed in this our day, and have been of a good savor to friends and to their neighbors in the village where they dwell."
